i have be a mario fan for as long a i can remember i have very fond memory of play super mario world a a kid this game have ought back many of those memory while add something new super mario galaxy be the late installment in t he amazing mario franchise there be much very different about this game from any other mario before it while stil l keep intact the great element of mario the first noticeable difference be that the story take place in space.th e story begin much like any other mario game mario receive a letter from princess peach invite him to a celeation at her castle in the mushroom kingdom upon arrive at peachs castle mario find bowser and his son bowser jr. attac k the castle with their airship bowser kidnaps princess peach and then lift her castle up into space in the midst of the castle be lift into space mario fall off and land on an unknown planet mario be find by a talk star name l uma and be take back to the lumas home a floating space station here mario meet many other lumas and also meet th eir leader a woman name rosalina rosalina tell mario that bowser have take away the space station power star and scatter them across the universe it be up to mario to help the lumas find them and save peach thus the adventure begins.the way you play the game be by fly from the space station to other galaxy each galaxy consist of multiple planet that mario travel amongst in level via these shoot star to retrieve the power star mario can at many time walk all the way around planet without lose gravity some planet be small and others be big many planet be similar to classic mario environments the best thing about the game be the control all of the stuff like jump and such be still the same but the wiimote be use in many unique way in this game you shake the remote mario will perform a s pin that be use a the primary attack in the game and it will as well activate the shooting star you can also poin t the remote at the screen and use the pointer to fire star bit at enemy or object in the environment then there be the graphic these be by far the best graphic on the wii it be just so hard to describe how great this game loo k you could probably almost say it look as good a some games.my only minor gripe be that the go upside down effec t take some get use to and also the story be pretty weak the bad part be that you lose all of your life when you the day have finally come for me to witness the perpetuation of azumis fate a an assassin fruition of her character and the ultimate attempt to draw me deep into the world she rampage through so mercilessly during the first saga.thats as poetical a ill get when talk about azumi death or love because when i cringe over the heavy sentimentality of house of fly dagger and complain about the credibility of aya ueto portray a blooddriven assassin after watch azumi i start to appreciate the previously mention shortcoming more than ever before.not only do the determination of each assassin feel sluggish and uninspiring but also many important element be omit from the entire experience in azumi we saw the assassin use various stealth tactic which be their number one priority as well a logic to make easy work of their mark with swift execution and quick ability to escape but i wont hold that against this movie too much since the story be slightly tweak this time around and many more obstacle be plant in azumis way to prevent her from reach the warlord and display any sign of charisma by the way chiaki be foolishly shelve for the most part of the film and be basically play a tone down version of go go minus the cool weapon and sense of menace.this ings me to the final blow which be the action simply disguise in the title a the death side of the epic in the first half of the film we see the debut of many promising adversary with flashy look and even flashy weapon to no one surprise they meet their end one way or another but the film fall short when each of them start die too fast and too easily in azumi the young assassin be mostly overpower the opposition with quick but somewhat satisfying battle and the final showdown between azumi and bijomaru in comparison to the fight in azumi be at least climaxed and worthwhile some interesting effect be introduce but they be unable to achieve innovation due to the shortness of each encounter i be in no way knock down the conventional style of samurai film with their quick and realistic battle but character in both azumi film be so imaginative and straight out of anime that the rule could have be oken and the action should have be further enriched.the romance side of azumi be there to fill in time between the fight scene and unfortunately at the end it serve no purpose nor provide a much need resolution.as a fan with an open mind for wide variety of movie and animation i wont lie and ill admit to my neutrality and unimpressiveness towards the first azumi film but ill step right up and say that after watch azumi the original be make to look like a flawless masterpiece for what it worth azumi death or love could have go straight to video with it invisibly richer budget and a failed potential to add or even expand on the bumpy journey of desperate assassin do their best to restore the peace with an unwavering courage to die try role a evident on this board the picture doesnt pas muster with purist who look for one hundred percent accuracy in their story tell to get beyond that one need only put aside the history book and enjoy the story a if it be a work of fiction i know i know thats hard to do when you consider custer last stand at the little big horn and it prominence in the history of post civil war america so i guess theres an unresolved quandary with the picture no matter how you look at it.theres a lot to take in here though for the picture two hour plus run time custer arriv al at west point be probably the first head scratcher rid up a he do in full military regalia the practical joke by sharp arthur kennedy put him up in the major headquarters probably should have get them both in trouble.ironic ally a lot of scene in this military film play for comedy a in custer first meeting with libby bacon and subseque nt encounter that include tea reader callie hattie mcdaniel i hadnt notice it before in other film but mcdaniel r emind me an awful lot of another favorite character actor of mine from the forty mantan moreland so much so that in one scene it look like it might have be moreland ham it up in a dress with that in mind the owl scene be a hoo t too.as for flynn it interesting to note that a year earlier he portray j.e.b stuart opposite ronald reagans dep iction of general custer in santa fe trail both vie for the attention of none other than olivia de havilland in t hat film reagan put none of the arrogance and flamboyance into the character of custer that history remembers whi le in flynns portrayal here it more than evident but it doesnt come close to that of richard mulligan take on the military hero in s little big man let just say that one be a bit over the top.the good take away the picture have for me be the manner in which custer persevere to maintain his good name and not gamble it away on a risky busine ss venture that and his loyalty to the men he lead in battle along with the discipline he develop over the course of the story most poignant be that final confrontation with arch rival sharp just before rid into the little big horn in which he declare that hell or glory be entirely dependent on one point of view earlier a similar remark m ight have give u the best insight of all into custer character when he state you take glory with you when it your time to go a illiant horror film utterly gruesome and very scary too the thing be a remake from john carpenter but please do not let that put you off this film it be simply illiant the start of the film have the alien spacecraft hurtle to wards the earth century before mankind walk the planet with an explosion that unleash the film title in amaze shi n white and blue state the thing one of the best opening credit for a horror film ever.the cast of actor who play the twelve man science team be a joy to behold and the location for the setting of their station in antartica be visually impressive on dvd widescreen it must have be great in the cinema i regret not see this on the big screen .kurt russell be excellent a macready the helicopter pilot who reluctantly become the leader of the men try to co mbat a lethal shape change monstrosity that have infiltrate their base all the actor in this be really good and c reate terrific scene of paranoia and tension a to who the thing have infect my favourite scene in the whole film have to be when macready test everyone thats still alive for infection it be tense scary and finally spectacular i love it because it funny a well.special mention must go to rob bottin for his truly amaze make up effect and sh ape change design of the alien itself if he didnt get an oscar for best visual effect at the time then he damn we ll should have this be also debatable a to whether this be john carpenter great film ... it certainly a gruesome masterpiece.wait for a cold winter night get some budweiser from the fridge sit down and watch the thing a horror masterpiece of flame throw hero fight shape change tower of gore and slime.utterly illiant.ten out of ten

i have just give a for thief highway i mention this for two reason one to prove im not a git who only give bad re view but because the theme of the film have the same thread namely the fall in love with a woman of the night.we all know pretty woman be a chick flick but you cant avoid them all theyll eventually get you pretty woman for me do two thing two terrible horrible ghastly thing firstly it portray prostitution a a career more akin to that of a dancer you know with absolutely great friend leg warmer lot of giggle borrow each others make up you see in the reality of pretty woman the prostitute and this be a street walker prostitute be talk about here have a great lif e shes healthy happy with only the occasional whimper to explain her predicament my feeling be this happy hooker type protagonist be a lot more palatable than an even nearly realistic character which for me beg the question if you make a movie about a type of person but be too chicken scar to adorn that player with the characteristic fami liar to that role then why do it if i make a film about a chef but dont want him to cook or talk about food or we ar a white hat then why make a film about a chef in the first place by bail out and turn the hooker into a respec table dancer type the story miss the point completely and consequently never indulges in any of the moral or soci al question that it could have what a cop out really really lame secondly pretty woman insult romance itself edwa rd lewis play by richard gere have no clue how to seduce or romance this lady that be without his plastic friend yep dont leave home without it especially if you be a moron in a suit who have no imagination out of of his roman tic moment involve splash cash in one way or another even when he first meet her it the lotus esprit turbo that d o all the work necklace here diamonds there limos over there money money money wheres the charm wheres the charis ma dont mention that attempt at the piano please.girls who like this film will also be girl who like shop more th an most guy who like this film will not even have realize that old eddy have less charm than a calculator a they probably dont either so it wont have register more importantly anyone who like this film will hate thief highway a wonderful story of which part be base on the same subject.ill finish on a song pretty woman hangin round the st reet pretty woman the kind i like to treat pretty woman i dont believe you youre not the truth no one could spend as much a you mercypretty woman wont you pardon me pretty woman i couldnt help but see pretty woman and you look lovely a can be do you lack imagination just like mepretty woman shop a while pretty woman talk a while pretty wo man sell your smile to me pretty woman yeah yeah yeah pretty woman look my way pretty woman say youll stay with m e .. and ill pay you .. ill treat you right warn review contains mild spoilersa couple of year back i manage to see the first five film in this franchise and be plan to do an overview of the whole elm st. series however just two year on and i find i cant remember enough about them in order to do it â— i guess they couldnt have make much of an impression from what i do recall some of the sequel â— dream warrior in particular â— werent as bad a be often make out though even the original be no classic generally the predictability of the premise if people fall asleep they get murder in their dream doesnt lend itself to narrative tension but while i can not recall much of the first five film i do know they never plumb the depth of freddys dead.an indication of how sick of freddy the public be at this point can be judge by the fact that the film be promote solely on the character demise the fact that the movie conclusion be not even hide but in fact the entire purpose for the film be go to illustrate how vacant soulless and cynical this venture was.taking the morally questionable idea of have a child molester a the charismatic villain robert englunds innowayscary interpretation boom with laughter i always think freddys mockery of the teenage victim be less aim at the character than at the teenage audience that could ever watch this tripe it like englunds cry out we know this be garbage â— but youre pay to see it so whos the one laughing and im sure victim of child abuse would be dishearten to see such an insensitive depiction of their plight be freddys appearance in the film always so rudimentary all he get to do here be a few haaaaaaaaaaaaaarr â— har â— har â— hars and thats it if this be the only elm st. film youd ever see you wouldnt get to know the character at all even a the character predeath in a flashback englund play him a a boohiss pantomime villain with a slop of transatlantic ie overstate misplaced and not at all funny irony.acting be almost universally poor just look at how many time breckin meyer overacts with his hand gesture and body language only kananga himself yaphet kotto keep his dignity and when roseanne tom arnold and alice cooper show up you can almost visibly see the film sink far into the mire the script too be absolutely lousy almost wholly without merit carlos ricky dean logan open a road map upon which the noel cowardlike freddy have wittily write youre f ked when prompt for the map carlos respond well the map say be f ked who write the screenplay oscar wilde or how about the scene where carlos be torture by freddy his hearing enhance to painful level so freddy torment him by threaten to drop a pin â— a potentially fatal sound give that all sound be magnify oddly the fact that carlos shout at the top of his voice for him not to drop it seem to have no effect nice hear from you carlos quip freddy hop some good line will come along it also worth note that dream sleep doesnt occur instaneously so be knock unconscious wouldnt allow instant access into freddys world though a part of the narrative contain a human computer game and a d finale plot logic isnt that high on the list of requirements.the teenager head the cast this time be really the most obnoxious dislikeable group in the whole series tracy lezlie deane be the only one who get to greet freddy with shut the f k up man and a kick in the scallop and be incongruous pop music always part of the ingredient freddys dead no laugh no scar no interest no fun some comment here on imdb have liken dog bite dog to the classic cat iii film of the s but although it be undoubtedly utal violent and very downbeat this film from pousoi cheang isnt really sleazy lurid or sensationalist enough to earn that comparison however it still pack a punch that make it worth a watch particularly if gritty hardedged action be your thing.edison chen play pang a cambodian hitman who travel to hong kong to assassinate the wife of a judge sam lee be wai the ruthless cop who be determine to track him down whatever the cost with wai closing in on his target pang will stop at nothing to ensure his escapeâ—until he meet yue a pretty illegal immigrant who need his help to escape her life of abuse.a relentlessly harsh drama with great cinematography amaze sound design a haunting score and solid performance from chen and lee as well a newcomer pei pei a pang love interest dog bite dog be one for fan of hardhitting asian hyperviolence think along the line of chanwook park vengeance trilogy stabbings shooting merciless beating all happen regularly in this film and be catch unflinchingly by director cheang .of course this be the kind of tale that be destine to have an unhappy end for all involve and sure enough pretty much everyone in this film die rather nasty death unfortunately there be a fine line between tragedy and unintentional comedy and in it final moment dog bite dog cross it in a laughably overdramatic final scene pang and wai be lock in battle a a pregnant yue look on eventually after all three have suffer severe stab wound during the fracas a wounded pang perform a diy ceasarean on a now dead yue deliver their baby moment before he himself dies.whilst this film might not be a classic slice of hong kong excess with it deliriously ott action and stylish visuals it still worth seek out there have be many documentary that i have see in which it appear that the law be on the wrong side of the fence the thin blue line and paradise lose come to mind first and foremost but this be the first film that have me seet he with anger after i saw it it seem blatantly clear to me from the evidence present in this film that what happe n at waco be at the very least an unprofessional and sloppy mess on the part of the fbi and afi and at the very b ad an act of murder like most people when the siege at waco be occur i assume that david koresh be a completely e vil madman who be lead a violent cult after see this i think that koresh be more likely a slightly unbalanced and confused guy who inadvertently catch the attention of the u.s. government through his eccentric action sure there be lot of weapon at the branch davidian compound but none of it be illegal it be absolutely hearteaking to see th e video footage of the people inside the compound all of them seem to be very nice and harmless and it be anger t o see the callous testimony of the men in charge of the government force on the waco site the clueless testimony of janet reno and the partisan defense of the attack on waco a defense lead by a few of the committee democrats s tand out most in my mind be ny representative and current u.s. senator from ny charles schumer i vote for the man when i live in ny state im a democrat pretty leftleaning too after see his action on this committee i wish i coul d go back in time and vote for damato instead for anyone remotely interested in the government this be a very cru cial film a must see i even think this should be show in class it that important yes i call this a perfect movie not one bore second a fantastic cast of mostly little known actress and actor a g reat array of character who be all well define and who all have understandable motif i could sympathize with perf ect light crisp black and white photography a fitting soundtrack an intelligent and harmonious set design and a s tory that be engage and work it one of those prime quality picture on which all the pride of hollywood should res t the mark everyone should endeavor to reach.barbara stanwyck be simply stun there be nothing this actress couldn t do and she always go easy on the melodramatic side no hysterical outburst with this lady i always think she be a good actress than screen goddess like bette davis or joan crawford and this movie confirm my opinion always as tough a nail and at the same time convey true sentiment it be fair to add that she also get many good part during her long career and this one be by far the least interesting.the title fit this movie very well it be about desir e human desire i think everyone can understand actually no one seem to be scheme in this movie all character act on impulse everybody want to be happy without hurt anybody else the sad fact that this more often than not lead t o complication make for the dramatic content into which i will not go here.i like what this movie have to say abo ut youth about mature and about the necessity to compromise the movie i associate most with this one be alfred hi tchcock shadow of a doubt it create a similar atmosphere of idealized and at the same time caricature small town america the story have a certain similarity with fritz langs considerably harsher movie clash by night make one y ear earlier where stanywck star in a similar part i can also recommend it if only i have read the review by alex sander sic on here rather than look at the rating of over from a select choice of the ignorant view public i would not have see this desecration alien be a fantastic dramatic and well make horror/scifi predator be a great scifi/action messabout i do really have only myself to blame though a i saw alien versus predator it too have an average grading of over star from the connoisseur of film that frequent this site.stop reading now if you have any fear of this ever so suspense ridden plot be ruin for you.right from the beginning this film be ridiculous no explanation be offer for the predator ship overrun/not overrun by alien ok so maybe they be again go to throw alien down to earth to hunt them and something go wrong but how do this result in an alien/predator hyid and why do the rest of the crew not realise sooner despite their great technology the start be actually the most coherent and interesting part of the film because we have some idea of who be who or what be what and perhaps why from then on it get really ridiculous i always leave my disbelief strictly suspend above the door of the screen before enter and collect it on the way out i couldnt here.a father and son be hunt in the wood the damage ship crash land to from the view give i would calculate at the very least odd mile away through thick woodland the man and boy track there alone and find the ship and get face hug even at this point you feel very little for them mainly because the face hugger be almost comical rather than scary in their movement and action and the father seem like such an irresponsible dumb redneck muppet.an edgy thrillertype scenario be introduce with an excon return to the town near the crash site to be meet by his somewhat emotionless dull now cop friend from the bus when i say introduce i mean a feeble attempt with crap actor and no feeling be play out a slasher/horror element be then introduce with a sexy girl and the usual supposedly nerdy or somehow undesirable cute guy who get beat up by the over protective crazy nasty jock type american sportsman not a scottish man oh the cute/not cute boy be the excons other by the way yes theyre clever these director others whose name i will research in order to avoid any other shite they put out again then a modern role reversal oh so boring attempt at pc ripley credential type character introduction come with a female soldier return home to her husband and child.guess what happen next i wont tell you much more about the actual smile sadly to himself about the demise of storytelling in the large majority of recent film plot just in case you have get this far and be not the ightest star in the alienriddn universe.the predator be stupid for the reason state by the previous poster whose post i read too late the alien be bore the predatoralien be ridiculous the action be at time exploitative gratuitous disgust nonsense the hospital scene with the pregnant mother oh i be shock alright shock at how low some people will go to get what a scare some shock to titillate the perverse what if you really want to shock titillate and scare people who be not pregnant or expect father or who have no soul why not just have the alien/predator shag the saucy woman and teenage girl rather than kill them the character have no depth and neither do the plot it film and pace badly it act by disinterested people not that i can blame them it further tarnish two rather interesting and good set of scifi character this film be rubbish and if you gain enjoyment from it i really have to worry about you if you havent see it then well please make your own decision.ps do i even mention the way that train soldier be all kill in about second while amateur civilian survive throughout year ago when darling lili play on tv it be always the pan and scan version which i hat and decide to wait and se e the film in it proper widescreen format so when i saw an inexpensive dvd of this julie andrews/blake edward opu s i decide to purchase and watch it once and for all.boy what a terrible film it so bad and on so many level that i really do not know where to start in describe where and when it go so horribly wrong look at it now it obvious to any fan of movie that blake edward create this star vehicle for his wife simply because so many other director have strike gold with andrew in musical mary poppins sound of music thoroughly modern millie etc but also because andrew be snub from star in project make famous on stage by julie herself camelot my fair lady etc because hollyw rre concoction of spy story/war movie/romance/slapstick comedy/musical darling lili suffers from multiple persona lity never know who or what it be some specific scene be good or effective but a a whole it just doesnt work at a ll to a point of it be very embarrassing.mind you the version on the dvd be the director cut or in this case let salvage whatever we can from this notorious box office flop in release the dvd edward cut scene from the original bloated theatrical version into this more streamlined and yet remarkably ineffective version the film move along with no idea of what it be we be minute into it and we still dont know whats go on or why be watch whats go what kind of spy be lili how powerful be she be she ever responsible for someone death instead we watch a thoroughly b ore look rock hudson try to woo a thoroughly bore look julie andrew thing arent help much with the inexplicable r eason why the two fall in love why do julie fall for hudson why him and not other men she get involve with there should have be one of her ex hang around try to win her back or try to decipher her secret this would have give u some much need contrast to the muddle action it would also have give u some impetuous to the sluggish proceeding theres no catalyst in this story.one only have to look at the cut scene to clearly see that edward and the writer just come up with idea inspire by andrew and edward previous successes the best or bad example be the scene when andrew and hudson follow a group of child who sing in the middle of a forest edward channel sound of music it no wonder he remove it from the dvd back in that scene might have work on a certain level but today that moment reek of desperation there be other plot element directly inspire by andrews/edwards other film the endless scene of do gfight be inspire by the much good modern millie the musical moment ill give you three guess be create just to ma ke fun of july mary poppins persona which be turn raunchy with julie do a striptease in the act the end bird eye view of julie run towards hudson plane be another wink at sound of music.the whole thing be confuse julie play a singer bear from a german father and british mother who live in england but sing her english song in paris you ne ver know exactly where the story take place some moment be just badly edit like when julie and her uncle be on ho rseback they talk and talk and then julie suddenly sprint off in midsentence im like what happen here the comedy bit be unfunny and cringeworthy every scene with the french police be pathetic wheres peter seller when you reall y need him the action be stupid beyond belief when julie and her uncle be on their way to germany on that train h udson squadron shoots round of bullet at the train almost kill lili in the process brilliant whats also funny abo ut that scene be the two leave on the train in the middle of the night but hudson and his squadron reach the trai n even though they fly off the next morning thats one slow move train there the musical moment the beginning be t he best part of the entire film and the reason i give this film star but it effect be diminish considerably becau se it repeat at the end speaking of redundant do we really need to see a cancan dance crepe suzette strip scene a nd julie strip too the girl in no man land be ok even if it bleeding obvious but that moment just doesnt make any sense whatsoever because lili sings it to a group of injured soldier at a french hospital make me wonder how many soldier there be injure indirectly by the result of her spy the whole project be listless and without energy the romance be unbelievable rock hudson be way too old and tire look check out the museum scene julie look daze like shes on valium but what really kill this illconceived project be julie play a german spy edward desperately want to dispel the mary poppins syndrome afflict his wife and believe that play a traitor be a good career decision as much a i like julie shes no greta garbo who pull it off so beautifully in mata hari funny enough even if julie pl

what can you say about the film white fire amazing fantastic disturb hilarious these word be not big enough to describe the event which be white fire from wobbly garble beginning to profound end this movie will entertain throughout.our movie begin in the wood of a country somewhere in the world a family be hide from unmarked soldier in costume shop uniform when the father separate from the mother and their childen you get a real sense of what kind of movie youre about to watch father make sure to roll down hill in his all white outfit and be polite a he get people attention before he shoot them but alas dad be burn alive in what look like a very unsupervised unsafe stunt meanwhile mom and the kid be run down a beach with an arm soldier trail about foot behind them he too give a stern warning before action in the form of a bizarre halt and then promptly waste the mother this action sequence set up the happy childhood of our hero bo and ingred.so now we fast forward about year if youre honest about the hero age to beautiful turkey where bo and ingred have settle a professional thief or diamond prospector or something ingred work at a diamond mine where she help herself to the good while bo masterfully play by the dynamic robert ginty drive around the desert in his denim outfit bo and ingrid have an interesting relationship they dont seem to have any friend other than each other and they spend all of their time together that couple with the fact that bo have express his desire to sleep with his sister a evidence in line such a you know it a shame youre my sister he say to her while shes stark naked make for a very dynamic duo bo be then crush when ingrid be kill a he wander the beach of turkey with his ceremonial pink grief scarf a renewal of hope occurs when bo find a girl who look like ingrid and give her plastic surgery to make her look exactly like ingrid this open the door for bo to have sex with his sister without it be technically wrong bo be a real fan of ethical grey area and he be overjoy with his new love.so anyway theres a lot of fun action scene ridiculous violence great act impossible to follow plot lines fred the hammer williamson for some reason and a big chunk of dirty ice which be suppose to be a giant diamond which later explode all of these thing be great but the bo and ingrid relationship be what make this movie special .... really special so i heartily encourage everyone to behold the majesty that be white fire you may be glad you do .. or not this be an ok adaptation of the eath take book of dan brown i cant say it be novel or very good but they make a movie that you can enjoy give the excellent story the result could have be well though the movie be pretty long but at the end i be feel like some thing be miss sound effect and sound track be very good acting be well do but the character development phase be very weak for people who didnt read the book thing may look happen too quickly from my point of view instead of try to put as much a stuff from the book they could have try to do the important scene more proper what make the book very good be all the puzzle like story combine with the excellent portrait of vatican you see neither of it in the movie too much rush and use the time not in a good way these be main problem of the movie so it be worth watch but could have be do well what can i say not as bad a many here have make it out to be the only reason i even watch this film that i have previously never heard of before be strictly for ian mcshane.i be not disappoint in the least ian mcshane be absolutely illiant and ings an amazing subtlety to his role he always great to watch and for my money ... an extremely underused actor.as for the rest of the film .... every other actor in the movie deliver strong solid performance these people certainly werent be pay huge amount of cash for their participation a this be a fairly low budget film but this do not mean that any of them mail their appearance in everyone be convince and compel with the part give to them.i be even pleasantly surprise at adrian paul performance though i must admit i have only ever see him in the highlander television series before this movie.the plot be well pace and the storyline intriguing and much like real life not everything end up tie in a nice neat little package for you at the end of the film anybody who expect a clearcut bythenumbers connect the dots conclusion or answer at the end of the movie ... clearly wasnt watch the film closely enough this film be not go to tell you what the meaning of life be the idea be that after se empire of passion start out deceptively that be if youre immediately expect it to be a horror movie it like a rif f on james m. cains the postman always ring twice at first seki kazuko yoshiyuki be a mother of two and a dutiful hardworking wife to rickshaw driver gisaburo takahiro tamura but when he not around and shes at home with the bab y the feisty and aimless young man toyoji tatsuya fuji come around to ing some goody for seki ... and a little ex tra theyre soon sleep together but after he do something to her let just say a shave he know that hell find out a nd immediately propose that they kill gisaburo they drink him up strangle him and then toss him down a well natur ally this will come back to haunt them but that it literally at least to them at first superterrified seki and th en only later on skeptical toyoji change gear into the kaidan a japanese ghost story.this be a film where the hor ror come not simply out of oh ghost ah but out of the total dread that build for the character in a way theres th e mechanic of a filmnoir at work throughout if only loosely translate by way of a th century japanese village a o ppose to an american city or small town i.e the snoop cop the evidence find possibly by another word get around s uspicion arouse etc it compelling because seiko actually be against the plan from the start manipulate by the lus tful but illprepared toyoji and her reaction to gisaburos reappearance be stagger to her take the one that come c lose to poetry gisaburos ghost paleblue face and mostly silent chill stare motion for seiko to get on the ricksha w she do reluctantly and he push her around on a road she doesnt know in the wee hour before dawn surround by smo ke most japanese ghost story wish to heaven they could get this harrowingly atmospheric.while it start to veer in to hysteric towards the end theres so much here that director oshima get right in make this a distinctive work af ter hit it huge in the international cinema world with in the realm of the sens which ironically get ban in his o wn country he make something that he claim be even more daring that sense maybe he be right empire of passion hav e less graphic sexual content by far than it predecessor also star tatsuya fuji a magnificently physical actor wi th an immense lot of range but it daring lie in craft a world of dread you can believe in ghost in this story but you also have to believe how far down to their own personal hell these two wouldbe lovebird will go the snoop det ective or the gossiping townspeople be the least of their worry the fate of their very soul be at stake.and oshim a take what in other hand could be merely juicy pulp sadly it wouldnt surprise me if an american remake be alread y in the work and craft shot after gorgeous shot with repetition work it way into the misenscene i.e the shot of seiko and toyoji walking on that road the camera at a dutch angle the world tilt and surround them in a grim blue hue as well a some affect movement that will stay with me long after i finish type this i.e toyoji throw the leaf by one hand into the well in slow motion or how seikos nude body be reveal after she become blind it dare lie in connect on a level of the spirit not to be confuse with the spiritual though there may be something with that as well about life and death connection to one another inextricably it a classic waiting to be discover i shall begin with a disclaimer this movie be not recommend for anyone who lack interest or have never play ff th e game before watch the movie rely on the audience knowledge of each character in the game to convey story plot e lement and it do so very subtly do your homework before watch this wonderful piece of cg film and i promise itll be that much better.with that in mind this film have some of the most spectacular cg sequence i have ever witness the whole experience felt like an extra long fmv sequence from the game on steroid yeah the attention to detail i n each scene especially in the heavy action orient one be so impeccable it leave me with a sense of awe.i believe the soundtrack be simplify so a to help the audience focus on the animation quality more than the music again for those who be familiar with the ff story and background the music should not surprise anyone although the timing a nd placement of each soundtrack from the original accompany each scene and mood to the point where the music simp ly enhance the animation .once again i myself have only play through ff once thoroughly enjoy this piece of art f it rare that i feel a need to write a review on this site but this film be very deserving because of how poorly i t be create and how bias it product was.i felt a distinct attempt on the part of the filmmaker to display the pal estinian family a boorish and untrustworthy we hear them discuss the sadness that they feel from oppression yet t he film be shot and arrange in a way that we feel the politically oppressed population be the jewish israeli popu lation we see no evidence that parallel the position of the palestinian teenager we only hear from other palestin ian in prison i understand restriction be in place but the political nature of the restriction be design to preve nt peace.i come out of the film feeling that the mother of the victim be selfish in her mourning and completely c lose mind due to her side of the fence so to speak she continue to be unwilling to see the hurt of the bomber par ent and her angry and closedminded word cause the final meeting to spiral out of control it be more realistic in my mind to see the israeli mindset to be a root of the problem ignore plea for understanding and freedom ignore r equest for acknowledgment for the process by which the jewish population acquire the land.i have give this a two because of these selfish weakness of the mother which normally would be admirable in a documentary however in the light of the lack of impartiality it all seem exploitative also for the poor edits lack of background in the actu al instance and finally the lack of proper representation of the palestinian side ultimately it be a poor documen tary and a poor film i acknowledge this be partially the result of the political situation but be oblige to note the flaw in direction regardless of the heartwrenching and sad subject matter first let me just comment on what i like about the movie the special effect be fantastic and very rarely do i fee l like i be watch a video game there that be the last nice thing i have to say about this film in fact i would ju st like everyone read this to take note that i cant even put into word how hard it be for me to write this review without swear i have innumerable complaint about the film but four major complaint jump to mind my first major co mplaint have to do with the incredible cheesiness of the plot twist if you can call it that since most people pro bably saw it come a mile away where loiss yearold son turn out to be the superpowered child of superman when the cry superchild throw a piano at lexs henchman to save his mother i almost get up and leave the theater singer cou ld have make a much good superman movie without resort to cheap gimmick like a seemingly fragile but latently sup erpowered illegitimate child it be day since i saw the movie and i still want to vomit my next major complaint ha ve to do with the fact that superman lift a continent make out of kryptonite up into out space it doesnt take com ic book guy from the simpson to point out whats wrong with that i dont know how many comic book brian singer have read but when superman be expose to even a small amount of kryptonite he barely have the strength to stay on his foot whoever have the idea to have him fly a large island make out of his great weakness into space have no busin ess be associate with any supermanrelated project ever again the concept be as ridiculous a make a dracula movie where the title character have a stake through his heart and still manage to fly a spaceship make out of garlic i nto the sun why not just have superman eat kryptonite he can eat it and then ush his teeth with it and then go to sleep in kryptonite pajama thats not any more absurd then have him hoist a continent of kryptonite into space and then fall powerless through the atmosphere without burn up in reentry or splatter all over central park when he h it the ground my third major complaint have to do with the fact that singer slap moviegoer across the face with r eligious symbolism the entire movie i have to take issue with his characterization of superman a the only son of a godlike jorel send to earth to be a savior jorel wasnt allwise he be just a scientist and he didnt send his son to earth to be a savior he throw him in a rocket and hurriedly fire it into space because his planet be about to explode ill buy the christ allegory if brian singer can show me the part in the bible where god send christ to ea rth because heaven be about to explode and then radioactive piece of heaven become christ primary weakness furthe rmore the crucifixion scene where luthor stab superman in the side with a kryptonite spear just make me want to s lam my face into a ick until im too aindead to notice the azenly obvious and inappropriate symbolism that will be taint the man of steel for the foreseeable future they might as well rename this movie superman return the passio n of the christ.and speaking of luthor my last major complaint have to do with singer depiction of lex luthor lex luthor be a shrewd coldhearted business tycoon who be more apt to run for president which he do in the comic than try to destroy the world the man want money and power he want to be in charge not wreck everything yet the luthor we see superman return as well a all the previous superman movie be a wacky theatrical dunce who come up with zan y scheme to destroy the world if singer have the slight loyalty to the character instead of the quite awful previ ous superman movie this film might not be such an unbearable travesty maybe singer next project can be a batman m many of the tactic the ewoks use in defeat the stormtroopers be through excellent use of their home field advanta ge since you live in the forest all your life i hope you would have learn to use it to your advantage they have s wing vine rope log set up to trip those walker and other trap the stormtroopers be highly disadvantage because th ey be outnumber and not aware of the advantage of the forest the only thing they have be their blaster to add it be not like the ewoks be battle the stormtroopers themselves they be heavily assist by the band of rebel in that conquest i think that if the stormtroopers be to have defeat a combination of the star war heros the band of rebe l as well a the huge clan of ewoks with great familiarity of their home terrain that would have be a great upset lastly if this scene be still unbelievable to you .. how about in empire strike back or in a new hope where there be several scene of a group consist of just han solo chewbacca and the princess be shoot at by like ten stormtroo pers and all their blaster miss while the hero be in full view and not only that the hero of course always hit th e stormtroopers with their blaster the trooper must have very very bad aim then at least in empire strike back th e battle of endor be much more believable since you have two army pit each other not hero against a legion of sto rmtroopers dont believe me check out the battle at cloud city when our hero be escape landos base or when our her o be rescue princess leia and be shoot at somehow they miss a han solo and luke be try to exit the death star.the last reason that i care to discuss others be just too plain ridiculous for me to spend my time here be that peopl e do not like darth vader be reveal well in many way that be a major part of the plot in the movie luke be try to find whether or not darth vader be his father annakin skywalker it would have be disappoint if the movie have end without luke get to see his father face because it make it complete by annakins revelation it symbolize the trans ition darth vader underwent from be possess by the dark side in his helmet and to the good person he be annakin s kywalker by remove the helmet the point be that annakin die convert to the light side again and that be what the meaning of the helmet removal scene be about in fact thats be what i would have do in that scene too if i be luke father ... isnt that what you would have do if you want to see your son with your own eye before you die and not in a mechanized helmet on another note i think a subconscious or conscious expectation among most people be that the sequel must be bad even if it be well that precede movie be another reason that rotj do not get a many accola de a it deserve i never go into a film with that deception in mind i always try to go into a film with the attitu de that well it might be good or bad that the original .. but i can not know for sure .. let see that way i go wi th an open mind and do not dupe myself into think that a clearly superior film be not as good a it really was.i b e not sure who criticize these movie but i have ask many college student and adult about which be their favorite star war movie and they all tell me except for one person that say that a new hope be their favorite that it be r otj i believe that the result on these poll be appal and quite misleading.bottom line the return of the jedi be t he best of the trilogy this movie be the only one of the three that keep me rivet all throughout it minute there be not a moment of boredom because each scene be either suspenseful excite surprising or all of the above for exa mple the emotional light saber battle between luke and his father in rotj be good than the one in the empire stri ke back any day finally i hope people go see the phantom menace with an open mind because if fan start look for n itpicky insignificant detail or see it as just another sequel to trash the movie such a this movie stink because luke be not in it then this meritorious film will become another spectacular movie that will be the subject of de rision like rotj suffer unfortunately crossfire remain one of the best hollywood message movie because unlike the admirably intentioned gentleman agree ment which it beat to theatre by a few month it choose to send it message via the form an excellent noir thriller rather than have an outrage star constantly say it because im jewish isnt it it much easy to get the message that hate be like a loaded gun across when the dead body be actual rather than metaphorical somewhat shamefully the ie f featurette on the warner dvd doesnt mention that novelist richard brook disown the film over the shift from a h omophobic murder to an antisemitic one but it interesting to note that while the victim be kill primarily because he be jewish there little doubt in sam levenes performance that the character be in fact also gay â— not a mincin g caricature but theres definitely a two lose soul aspect to his scene with george cooper confuse soldier there n ot much of a mystery to who the murderer be even though the killing be carry out in classic noir shadow the body language of the killer be instantly recognisable but then the film have it character drift to the same conclusion before the halfway point the tension come from prove it and save the fall guy.theres an element of ealing film to the gang of soldier team together to get their buddy out of a fix you could almost see that aspect a a blueprint for hue and cry but the atmosphere be pure rko noir set over one long swelter night the film have a great look fi ll with deep dark black and shadow bear a much out of economy a style it cut back on lighting time and allow dire ctor edward dmytryk more time to work with the actor and the excellent cast make the most of the fine script a la idback but quietly charismatic robert mitchum robert young maigretlike detective gloria grahame tramp and the per petually creepy paul kelly a her compulsive liar admirer a guy who try on story the way other people try on tie b ut the lasting impression be of robert ryans excellent performance a a guy who could do with a good leave alone a he do his best to help the wrongly accuse man all the way to death row a big surprise hit in a a reward dmytryk a nd producer adrian scott find themselves investigate by the huac which itself have a notable tendency to target j ew so much for crusadingâ…

this movie basically be a very well make production and give a good impression of a war situation and it effect o n those involve it always interesting to see the story from the other side for a change this movie concentrate on a group of german soldier who after fight in the north africa campaign be send to stalingrad russia where one of the most notorious and bloody battle of ww ii be be fought.its interest to see the other side of this battle sinc e we mainly just always see the german simply a the villain in this movie those villain be give an humane face an d voice and it sort of make you realize that the only true enemy in war be war itself and not necessarily those w ho youre fight against at first it kind of hard to concentrate on the movie because you always just have in the b ack of your mind that the german be the evil villain but of course you get accustom to it quickly and you soon ad apt the german a the main character of the movie and you even start to care and be interested in them.the way thi s story be tell isnt however the best it hard to keep track of the story at time a it jump from the one sequence and location to the other the movie isnt always logic in it storytelling and feature a bit too many sequence that remain too vague it also be most of the time pretty hard to keep the character apart and see who be who it doesnt always make this movie an easy on to watch but than again on the other hand there be plenty enough sequence and m oment present in this movie to make it worthwhile and an interesting one just not the most coherent one around in that regard hollywood movie be always good than european movies.the production value be high and feature some goo d look set and location though the movie wasnt even shoot in russia itself it help to create a good war time situ ation atmosphere.the character be mostly interesting although perhaps a tad bit formulaic but i dont know for som e reason formulaic character always work out fine in war movie and strenghtens the drama and realism it also help that theyre be play by well cast actor all of the actor arent the best known actor around thomas kretschmann be a lso at the time still a fairly unknown actor but each of them fit their role well and give it character an unique face and personality.all in all not the best or most consistent ww ii drama around but definitely worth a look du e to it original approach of the german side of the battle of stalingrad and it good production values./ so i rent this from netflix because somebody give me roger eberts book i hat hat hat this movie and he give this one a rare zerostar rating in the book and say at the end of his original review mad dog time should be cut up to provide free ukulele pick for the poor so i figure from ebert say that i would see if it be really as bad a he sa y it be i know most society say not to listen to critic and to judge for yourself but i could not express how muc h i hat this piece of junk like ebert do and never since eberts review of rob reiners north where he say he hat t hat movie ten time have i ever hear such a illiant hatred movie review here we have richard dreyfus a a gangster which i dont think it would be terrible to see dreyfuss a a gangster if the screenplay for this movie be write we ll but above all the other thing that be awful about this movie i can certainly tell you the script be not write well at all while the movie start off with jeff goldblum say that he enjoy watch dreyfusss girlfriend while dreyf us be at a criminal hospital the movie start off with some decent dialog after the opening credit but after that first or minute the other minute just consists of dumb character talk pointless garbage for second then someone g et shot then there be a whole bunch of joke about dreyfus be mentally ill. haha not funny then we get an unpleasa nt and unfunny scene parody frank sinatra my way sang by gaiel byrne apparently to insult dreyfus of course becau se the screenplay be write on the level of a sixth grader dreyfus shoot byrne over five time and byrne just will not die be we a the audience suppose to even care or find that mildly funny i can certainly tell you i do not car e or find that funny not only be i disappoint in dreyfus who i admire much a an actor for produce and star in thi s tripe but i be also extremely disappointed in jeff goldblum because this be release the same year that independ ence day be the top grossing film of the year and ultimately one of the most successful film in history do goldbl um feel that independence day would be a flop and then just take the next role that be offer to him to make some money if independence day be a bomb what do an oscar winner and the star of two of the big money make film in his tory find remotely enjoyable about this the opening sequence of mad dog time say that the movie be set on another planet i only wish now that i have waste minute watch this trash that it would have stay and open in theater on t he planet where it supposedly take place so that way everyone on this planet would never here of this ridiculous waste of minute out of my life that i will never get back ebert say the movie should have be cut up be not good e nough i be afraid every copy of mad dog time should have gasoline pour all over it and be light on fire i have ye t to top a bad movie i have ever see because this one have win it honor a the bad movie ever first of all mexican werewolf in texas be not a werewolf movie this title be bullcrap the story be actually about a chupacaa that kill all the local villager in the little town of furlough in texas i suppose the distributor ren ame the original title so that it would make some extra buck or something and i guess it actually work because th ats the reason why i buy this piece of crap it sound so stupid anyway the movie isnt any good actually it bloody awful but i didnt expect anything else when i buy it it a low budget horror movie with a chupacaa monster if you enjoy low budget horror with bad dialog actor and some gore then you should check into this movie but i must warn you this movie be really baaaaaaad.this movie have some of the bad act i have ever see the actor try to hard and t it get completely ridiculous they almost never say a line in a normal way they always have this completely wron g tone about just everything they say it so stupid it almost look like a freakin parody it like they shoot each s cene only one single time and be happy about it the bad of them all be the blond girl which be suppose to play a bimbo shes the bad of them all i have never see an actor as bad a her and ive see pteradactyl even when her boyfr iend die she cant stop be a bimbo about it i hate her.some of the shot in this movie be actually quite good the o ne that where shot in the daytime be all pretty decent for a low budget project but most of the movie be shoot in the night when the chupacaa strike and the lighting be way too dark the gore scene be few and short but really gr izzly and violent the effect be pretty hilarious really but thats the way i like it the chupacaa look pretty mess up and it easy to see that it a guy in suit.overall this movie should only be watch by extreme fan of low budget flick and it very important to not watch this alone because you will probably be bore to death i recommend watch this flick with your friend and some beer rather like paul newman and steve mcqueen with their racing car movie this have all the appearance of a jolly pro ject for robert redford a he get to ski up hill and down dale in the alpine sunshine.the story be as light a powd ered snow with redford smalltown boy david chappellet what kind of lead name be that who with his eye on the priz e of olympic glory get up the nose of in no particular order his coach father and teammate woman be a mere sidesh ow in his insular world a evidence by a fairly distasteful pickup scene with an old girlfriend in his hometown an d then his selfishly petulant pursuit of heaven above a freethinking independent woman play by camilla sparv the skiing sequence be fine with some good stuntwork involve numerous bump and scrape on the piste but their effectiv eness be dim by our subsequent familiarity with top tv coverage of ski event down to the present day plus im not convince that the winter olympics have the same mass identification with the general public a the summer game so that when redford eventually win his gold medal in the final reel i couldnt really be that excited for him one wa y or another.of the actor redford best profile forward doesnt need to do much and indeed doesnt while gene hackma n do well with equally meagre material m sparv do well a the chief female interest well who treat redford the way hes doubtless treat every other woman in his chauvinistic way.in truth though there a lack of dramatic tension th roughout for which the action sequence dont fully compensate and you dont care a fig for any of the lead characte r one of those film where the actor probably enjoy make it more than the viewer do watch it a be often the case when you attempt to take a plus page book and cram it into a two hour film a lot be lose here director john madden shakespeare in love take on an extremely ambitious project and almost pull it off what we get be a charming and emotionally compelling film that seem somehow incomplete.there be much about this film that be wonderful and fantastic the cinematography by john toll cinematographer for braveheart and legend of the fall winning oscar for both be splendid work with madden the choice for location on the greek island of kefallonia be superb and the visual image that come from photograph these majestic location in vary light be lush and beautiful madden also use numerous greek actor a the townspeople give the town an authentic feel the soundtrack be also terrific and the mandolin passage and vocal by the italian soldier be marvelous.madden do an excellent job of inging u the italian occupation and the romance which take up the great part of the film there be numerous sweet and funny moment throughout this segment however by the time the serious battle drama be ready to unfold there isnt much film leave in the reel and this component be extremely rushed and abeviated while the battle scene be well do subsequent to the battle it be obvious that increasingly great compromise be be make to keep the film from run too long by the time we reach the post war scenes the treatment be merely skeletal another negative be that the dvd be particularly sparse on features.nicholas cage be charm in the romantic lead a the sentimental captain who seem to have join the army to sing rather than fight when fight he must cage switch gear seamlessly into a man of fierce principle and resolve and somehow remain believable in both personas.penelope cruz whom the camera love give an uninspired performance a pelagia in part this be because cage so dominate the screen but cruz just seem too placid in a part that should be emotionally torrential and dynamic she allow the character to be objectify a corelli love interest rather than establish her a a powerful character in her own right.john hurt give a fantastic performance a the wise old doctor who know as much about human nature a medicine however christian bale seem a bit overwrought and stiff a pelagias fiancã©.i rat this film an despite some drawback this be a touching film that be well worth see the photography alone be worth the price of admission have see carlo lizzanis documentary on luchino visconti i be bind to high expectation before watch this film make three year later by adam low but the viewer like me do get dissatisfied ... i face a need for critical opinion wh ich i generally dont like give due to the fact there be no documentary that will satisfy every viewer there be al so no documentary that will examine a theme totally but when i read the review already write on this title i also felt a bit confused people sometimes dont know what to criticize therefore to be clear ill divide this film into two major part that differ considerably the former one about visconti before his director career and latter one a bout visconti the director the aristocratic background all the hobby the wealth that young luchino experience and enjoy be clearly present his effort in horse racing be mention as well a his relation with his mother so much dis turbed after his parent divorce we also get a very accurate idea of where luchino be ought up a a real count of m ilano in rich galore with nanny cook with access to everything in true aristocracy for instance his father splend id villa at grazzano and other marvelous villa prove that there be also an emphasis on visconti crucial visit in paris in the s where he meet eminent people leave winger who later have impact on his style and message in art th at clearly explain the idea of a communist with the aristocratic up a contrast at first sight however the part ab out his director career which start with ossessione during wwii and end with innocente just before the director d eath in be poorly execute his movie be not discuss well why because there be very few people who really have some thing to say franco zeffirelli the director remember the work on la terra trema and that be all right there be al so some interview with franco rosi but later such movie like il gattopardo la caduta dei rei la morte a venezia o r ludwig be mostly discuss by helmut berger although i like the actor in the role of ludwig i do not like the int erview of his moreover some thought he reveals be not accurate to entail in such a documentary ... there be no me ntion of significant work of visconti like conversation piece there be no interview with eminent cast burt lancas ter a mention about silvana mangano and romy schneider should also be make there be one footage interview with ma ria calla that appear to be interesting but that be only a short bit franco zeffirelli though i appreciate him a a director make fun of it all rather than say something really precious for instance he mention the event how vis conti separate from him after year of service therefore i say simplify and unsatisfactory what i find a strong po int here be footage interview with visconti himself a a result we may get his own opinion about his work for inst ance i very much appreciate the word he say about death regard it a a normal chapter of life and as natural a bir th itself he also discuss his health problem after the stroke while film ludwig.i believe it be well to see luchi no visconti by carlo lizzani than this doc although it be short and condense a a whole you will get a good idea o f the director visconti would be furious about that and the fury of his usually turn people emotion and viewpoint into stone ...

i must admit i be expect something quite different from my first viewing of cut last night though be delight with the unexpected australian horror gem i be a true horror fan as true a they come and find cut to not only be the best of the genre australia have ever produce but one of the great parody/comedy film of late.my only concern be that mainstream audience may not pick up on a lot of the comedic elements the film be not overly clever in it application but make me laugh at every turn try to fit in every possible cliche of the horror genre they could i be certain this be intend a humour .... hop this be intend a humour.and of course there be the gore.the use of the customise garden shear be illiance besides the expect stab and slash in short there be a huge amount of variety and creativity in the many violent death enough to please even the skeptic of this film worth.the appearance of both kylie minogue short that her appearance be and molly ringwald be just another reason to see the film both performance be fantastic as well a simon bossell the castle in a illiant role a the jokey technician.all in all i think this movie be one of the best horror product of the last couple or year as well a a beautiful satire/parody toungueincheek till the very end.loved it go see it i be so happy not to live in an american small town because whenever im show some small town in the state it be populate with all kind of monster among whom flesh hungry zombie evil alien and sinister ghost be most harmless in this movie a former doctor who just do time for an accidental killing of his wife in a car crash direct his step to the near small town he must have never in his life see a flick about any small town which happen to be the purgatory flat and of course as soon a he arrive there all the hell eaks loose he meet a blond chick who out of all creature most resembles a cow both in facial expression and in ain functioning and at once fall in love with her but there be a tiny handicap she be already marry to a very smalltime drug dealer who in a minute get himself shot pitifully not dead to know what have come out of all this you should watch the movie for yourself ill just tell you that it slightly reminiscent of u turn by oliver stone but be a way down in all artistic property like anyone else who buy this i be dupe by the piece of extreme gore and ban in country or whatever it say in the box i have to admit i be a huge gore fan and i be always amaze when film can lay it on thick and look convince do it tom savini rick baker and greg cannom be some of the best in the business the revolutionize makeup effect in the s. today you dont need them a everything be do on computer but computer can not compare to the visual wizardry that these three men could conjure up but i digress.watching fantastically gory film like fulcis gate to hell or even savinis crown achievement friday the th the final chapter you can appreciate all that go into make a terrifically gory film you cant tell the difference between reality and magic.i cant imagine another reason why anyone would see cannibal ferox but the gore that be ostensibly omnipotent in this film if that be the reason you seek this film then you be waste your money a many other reviewer in here have note most of the gore be an aftermath you dont see the torture or the bloodshed a it happen you see whatever it look like afterwords.the gore well it here but not as much a one would hope or expect a man do get castrate and a woman do get hang by her east but other then those two scene and one involve a scalping there be nothing really much else to this film the scene of gore even in these three mentioned be still pretty tame in comparison to what you be hop for maybe it just me and my sick and twisted experience in the horror and gore genre but i be expect a bit more call me sick or twisted but isnt that the only reason people be watch this film in the first place i honestly find myself bore in a lot of places. cannibal ferox be just another film that try to capitalize on a craze of a superior film while cannibal holocaust be not exactly a great film it be much good than this tripe if you go out of your way to buy this for you will feel cheated./ this will not likely be vote best comedy of the year a few too many coincidence and plot hole however we be talk about a movie where a hitman and a white ead salesman become buddy so a few vagary shouldnt come a too much of a surprise brosnan be excellent in this role go be the wooden james bond a role he be waste in if he can maintain this kind of quality i hope he continue to make comedy greg kinnear be also excellent a brosnans straight man ive read a few negative comment in here about hope davis but i think she be quite good a a mousy housewife with a dark side bury deep within there be lot of good chuckle a brosnan sleazes his way through and a few scene where i nearly die laugh my father a consultant nearly lose it when julian describe himself a a facilitator much like gross e pointe blank another hitman comedy the humour can be very dark if you be in to that be prepare to enjoy yourself this tvseries be one of the one i love when i be a kid even though i see it now through the pinkshaded glass of nostalgia i can still tell it be a quality show very educational but still funny i have not see the original french version only the swedish i have no idea how good the dubbing be it be too long ago to remember.the premise of the show be to show you how the body work i swear school still hasnt taught me half of what i know from this show it also tie in other thing like what happen if you eat unhealthy food and dont exercise with nice example within the body who want to have another bar of chocolate when you know miniature virus tank can invade you d the cartoon look nice very kid friendly of course but do with care cell viruses electric signal in the ain antibody and everything else be represent by smile cartoon figure look pretty much how youd expect what they should look like in the animated body.this and the series about history especially the environmentally scary finale be key part of my childhood im so happy i find them here fan of the hbo series tale from the crypt be go to love this moh episode those who know the basic archetypal story that most of the classic ec comic be base on will recognize this one right off the bat.underrated indie favorite martin donovan also an excellent writer coauthor of the screenplay for apartment zero and death becomes her be the kind of guy whose everyman good look can go either way he could play a really nice if misunderstood guynextdoor or he can play the same role with a creepy undertone of corrosive sleaziness in the case of right to die he take the latter approach and it definitely works.donovan be a doctor who have recently have an affair with his slutty office receptionist robin sydney much to the displeasure of his inconsolable unforgiving spouse abbey julia anderson when the two of them get involve in a terrible car accident while return from an unsuccessful weekend of make up and shes horribly burn in a fire hes reluctant to pull the plug on her not without some enthusiastic nudging from his even sleazy lawyer and best buddy corbin bernsen look the worse for wear these day but abbey never be one to give up without a fight and thats where the ectheme of the episode come in cuckolded husband and wife have always be the genre favorite subject matter for some spooky and ooky supernatural shenanigan and this case be definitely no exception if anything the rampedup quotient of sex and gore must have bill gaines cackle with glee in his mausoleum somewhere.and thats not to mention that john espositos original script do give the adultery angle just a slight twist you dont realize a youre watch that you only know half the story until close to the end ... think what lie beneath with more gut and gazongas and youre there not a bad effort but not the best of the lot either at least rob schmidt do display touch of flair here and there with the direction especially in a scene that make cell phone picture message into a truly horrifying experience indeed a with most moh episode this one be follow a prevalent theme this season of flaying and dismemberment so the extremely squeamish need not apply one of my favorite show back in the s. a i recall it go to air on friday or possibly saturday night on the nine network here in australia darren mcgavin and simon oakland be great together.each episode usually reach a climax with kolchack have to engage in hand to hand combat with some sort of supernatural opponent to their credit the writer make a concerted effort to get away from the usual round of vampire and ghost as much a possible.i remember one episode in which the adversary be the spirit of an ancient indian chief which/who come back a a massive electrical current which start to kill people in a city hospital the final showdown saw kolchack try to short circuit the power beast amidst an explosion of spark and billow flame oh well .... you have to be there at the time but it be an interesting idea.mcgavin always pack a lot of energy and enthusiasm into his role and this be one of his best.definitely deserve a place in tvs hall of fame to quote tony vincenzo .... kolchack you be on it ... or in the case of the hall of famein it frownland be like one of those intensely embarrassing situation where you end up laugh out loud at exactly the wrong time and just at the moment you realize you shouldnt be laugh youve already reach the pinnacle of voice resoundness and a you look around you at the ghostly white face with their gaping wideopen mouth and glazen eye you feel a piercing ache begin in the pit of your stomach and suddenly rush up your throat and ... well you get the point.but for all it unpleasantness and punch in the face frownland really be a remarkable piece of work that after view the inarticulate mess of a main character and all his pathetic trouble and mishap make you want to scratch your own eye out and at the same time you feel sickenly sorry for him.it would have be a lot easy for me to simply walk out of ronald bronsteins film but for some insane reason i felt an unwavering determination to stay the course and experience all the grainy irritation the film have to offer if someone set you on fire you typically want to put it out stop drop and roll but with this film you want to watch the flame slowly engulf your entire body you endure the painperhaps out of spite or some unknown masochistic curiosity i cant even begin to attempt to explain.unfortunately mainstream cinema will never let this film come to a theater near you but if you get a chance to catch it prepare yourself ing a doggie bag i first saw this film when i be about year old on tv in the uk where it be call laupta the fly island i absolutely love it and be heartoken when it be repeat a while later and i miss it i be enchant by the story and character but most of all by the haunting and beautiful music it would have be the original english dub version which i saw sometimes erroneously refer to a the streamline dub the dub be actually by ghibli themselves and only distribute by streamline which be sadly unavailable except a part of a ridiculously expensive laser disc boxset.unfortunately i feel that the release have be partly spoil by disney the voice acting be ok but the dialogue doesnt have the same raw energy that the streamline dub or the original japanese have and i think james van der beek sound too old to play the lead they have make some pointless alteration such a change the main character name from pazu to patzu and add some dialogue but bad of all i feel that they have ruin many scene with intrusive music the opening scene of the airship for example be originally silent but have be spoil thanks to disneys moronic requirement that there be music play whenever anyone be not speak which i find annoy in many disney films.this film still blow away most recent animated film and i can not recommend it highly enough the plot be simple yet captivate and the film show a flair which be sadly miss from most modern massmarket homogenize animation this film cant make up it mind whether it message be human be evil and bad and animal be sweet and blameless or dont ever go in the water again a fisherman nolan be out to nab a killer whale a very bad thing but when he accidentally accidentally mark you hit a pregnant cow instead of her mate the cow and i use the word in all sens who be obviously a sick psychobitch and the canonical villain of the piece throw herself against the propeller try to chew herself to bit in the most distressing and hideous not to mention ineffectual method of kill herself i doubt it be her first when her unborn fetus abort from her hideous selfinflicted wound her mate go mental with revenge and swears to hurt kill and mutilate every human who even so much a talk to nolan obviously a among human total psycho date other total psychos.the film reek of halfthought out antihuman message the poor poor whale the evil men must suffer and die and yet it do not succeed in demonize nolan at all it true that when he set out his motif be selfish and cruel but at the first squeal of the first whale he grow a heart and a the film progress he grow more and more compassionate to the whale pain until it seem he will walk out on the ice and give himself to the whale just to make it feel a little better.the film final journey in which nolan follow the whale on a bizarre journey to the north remind me of melville eerie manwhale connection and for a moment hint at a truly interesting conclus ion where these two husband might connect understand even respect each other in their own grief for nolan lose hi s wife and unborn child also to an accident it clear nolan respect the whale and feel for it loss however it neve r go there the whalecharacter have no compassion or respect for anyone.the final scene lose this focus and become jawslike where the seamonster finally kill everybody and nolan and nodoubt through an oversight fail to chomp up the whalehugger tho he make a good snap for her head a little early i love animal and i detest whale and what be more i love orca whale but if this films goal be to make me feel that the whale be the victim and that people be evil and detestable it completely fail nolan show compassion and growth and feel for others and all the whale thi nk about be kill and maiming.the only message one can walk away with be if you see an orca whale ever anywhere ru n the other way cause if you step on his fin the wrong way he will hunt you to the end of the earth destroy every thing around you ress hilary swank major surprise since everyone think annette benning be go to win simply down to academy politic s but swank do deserve it and give the best speech of the night best director clint eastwood major surprise since everyone think scorsese be go to get the award simply because hed never win one actually im glad about this becau se if he didnt deserve it for taxi driver rag bull or goodfellas he didnt deserve it for the aviator best film mi llion dollar baby again another major surprise since everyone think the academy would split the award for best di rector and best picture while i think the hollywood friendly plot of the aviator would have make it a dead cert f or best picture while mdbs controversial subject matter would have turn a lot of voter off what these award perha ps illustrate be that this year the voter have decide to ignore oscar politics and genuinely give out award to pe
